

WHITE MARBLE · QUARTZ · ARCHITECTURAL SURFACES

ELEGANCE DOES NOT ASK TO BE NOTICED.

It is felt in the restraint of a material.
The character of its surface.
The way light moves across it.

And in the things that remain beautiful long after everything around them changes.

THE GRANDEUR OF WHITE

White has a particular place in architecture. It can be quiet yet commanding. Minimal yet expressive. Subtle yet impossible to ignore. It can recede quietly into the architecture or become its defining element.

Natural white marble is never simply white. Its depth, veining, movement and subtle variation give every slab its own character. Light changes across its surface. No two pieces are quite alike.

For those who choose to build with it, white marble is more than a surface. It becomes part of the architecture, shaping the atmosphere of a space as much as the structure itself.

Luxury Stones began with the idea that such a material deserved a destination of its own.

A DESTINATION FOR WHITE MARBLE

Luxury Stones was established in Bangalore in 2024 with a simple idea:

What if white marble was not just another category in a stone showroom?

The collection was built around white, bringing together carefully selected material from some of the world's important stone-producing regions.

CURATED FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Our collection begins long before a slab reaches the showroom.

We travel to quarries to select blocks and work with trusted dealers to identify and inspect the best available lots. We look beyond origin and material name, assessing quality, colour, veining, consistency, variation and character before deciding what enters the collection.

Some projects call for quiet, consistent surfaces. Others call for movement and natural expression. We select accordingly, looking for the qualities that make a stone right for its intended use.

THE DIFFERENCE LIES IN DISCERNMENT.

THE VALUE LIES IN KNOWING WHAT TO CHOOSE.

A DESTINATION FOR WHITE MARBLE

THE EYE BEHIND THE COLLECTION

Founded by Rajnish Kotecha and Sandeep Rathi, Luxury Stones brings together more than three decades of their experience in the stone industry.

Their journey has spanned Indian marble to granite retail and wholesale, granite manufacturing, and international sourcing of white marble.

Each stage has brought a different understanding of stone: its quality, sourcing, processing, variation and commercial requirements. Luxury Stones brings that experience together in a focused collection, with white marble at its centre.

FROM QUARRY TO SLAB

From quarry to finished surface, every stage shapes the stone. We stay close to the process, watching over the material from selection through to the finished slab.

Every stage reveals something. Every decision shapes what comes next.

FROM MOUNTAIN

QUARRY EXTRACTION

Large blocks of white marble are carefully separated from the mountain using diamond wire saws and controlled water cutting, preserving the integrity of the stone.

01

REVEALING THE STONE

GANG SAW SLICING

Large gang saws cut each block into uniform slabs, typically around 18 mm thick. It is here that the character hidden within the block begins to reveal itself.

03

BRINGING OUT THE CHARACTER

POLISHING & HONING

Progressive diamond polishing reveals the depth, colour and movement of the stone — from a reflective polish to a softer honed finish.

05

06

READY FOR ITS NEXT JOURNEY

PACKAGING & EXPORT

Finished slabs are carefully protected, packed and prepared for transport to destinations around the world.

FROM QUARRY TO MILL

BLOCK TRANSPORT

Multi-ton blocks make their way from the quarry to processing facilities, where the raw stone begins its transformation.

02

REFINING THE SURFACE

RESIN TREATMENT

Where required, carefully applied resin fills minor natural pinholes and micro-fissures, helping preserve the integrity of the finished slab.

04

THE FINAL INSPECTION

INSPECTION & GRADING

Each slab is assessed for brightness, structural integrity, veining and consistency, ensuring that what reaches the collection meets the required standard.

TIMELESS BY NATURE.

A material shaped over time, chosen to remain relevant long after trends have passed.
